

Cabins at Seven Foxes

It's easy to get lost at The Cabins at Seven Foxes.

Not the scary "Where The Heck Am I?" kind of lost, but the idyllic "Who Cares What's Going On in the Rest of the World and Why Would I Ever Want to Leave" variety.

Nestled in the rolling hills of Lake Toxaway, The Cabins at Seven Foxes are beguiling in the charm embedded in each cabin and the surrounding woods.

As you stroll past the hemlocks and rhododendrons and the neighboring meadow with its welcoming herd of miniature horses and goats, you'll discover five cabins tucked in the woods, each with its own character.

There's the Raccoon Loft, Squirrel Nest, Deer Lodge,

Bear Cave and Fox Hole, wonderful cabins fully equipped with kitchens, outdoor gas grills, picnic tables, satellite TV/VCR/DVDs, phones, gas fireplaces, air conditioning and clean linens.

It's the perfect tonic for the relentless stress of the modern world and the perfect location for a family gathering, small wedding, or retreat. It's also pet-friendly in certain cabins so you don't need to leave any loved ones at home.

A series of gentle trails wind through the wooded grounds and there's a pavilion, family swing area, and a tranquil waterfall/pond.

All of this is owned by Atlanta ladies and overseen with loving attention by Bill and Linda Bergamini. "We can't imagine doing anything else," says Linda. "We just love this place."

That love translates into a warm welcome to every guest and an unshakeable commitment to make each visit a lesson in relaxation.

Oh, and the name "The Cabin at Seven Foxes?" A local gent, Mr. Smith, saw "a bank of seven foxes just a basking in the sun" near the edge of the meadow.

You're invited to join the tradition.

The Cabins at Seven Foxes is located on Slick Fisher Road, just off Highway 281 in Lake Toxaway. For more information or to make reservations, call (828) 877-6333 or visit www.sevenfoxes.com. ■
